

On the last day of the 2017 Season for Creation, the feast of St. Francis of Assisi and on the eve of the EU 'Our Ocean' international conference in St. Julian's, 5-6 October

The Church Environment Commission and Nature Trust Malta invite you to a public meeting

Laudato Si: Interfaith and Secular Perspectives on Care for Creation

Wednesday 4 October, 7.00pm to 9.00 pm, The Millennium Chapel, Paceville

Words of Welcome:

Her Excellency the Acting President of Malta, Mrs. Dolores Cristina
The Vicar General of the Church of Malta, Mons. Joseph Galea Curmi

Keynote speakers:

The Christian perspective: Fr. Mark Ciantar, OFM

The Jewish perspective: Rabbi Chaim Chabad Segal, Malta Jewish Community

The Muslim perspective: Imam Mohammed El Sadi, The Mosque, Paola

The EU view: Mr. Karmenu Vella, European Commissioner for the Environment, Maritime Affairs and Fisheries

The Mediterranean view: Dr. Gaetano Leone, Co-ordinator, UNEP Mediterranean Action Plan-Barcelona Convention Secretariat

Civil society's views: Malta's Youth: A student from a local school

Civil Society's views: Malta environmentalists: Vincent Attard, President, Nature Trust Malta

Questions / Comments from the floor

Closing Message:

HE Monsignor Alessandro D'Errico, Apostolic Nuncio to Malta and titular Archbishop of Carini

Moderator: Mario Camenzuli, Chairperson, Church Environment Commission

As a courtesy to our speakers, please be seated by 6.45pm

A formal report of the meeting will be issued in English and Maltese a few days after the event